Bethel Pathway now connects Davis Park directly to North Rd.

By MICHAEL DANIELS

There's been visible progress on the ground recently in the ongoing effort to expand the Bethel area's inventory of recreational trails.

And there has also been significant behind-the-scenes work to ensure the long-term growth, sustainability and effectiveness of the local trails effort.

On the ground

Preliminary work is being completed this week on a new, 1,500-foot, section of trail that will complete the connection between Davis Park and the North Road.

The first section of that route, the recreational pathway through the former Bethel Station property, was completed in spring of 2002.

And late last year the new recreational bridge across the Androscoggin River was officially opened, connecting Davis Park with the far side of the river.

The new pathway extension picks up from there.

It winds back along the eastern side of the bridge, then turns under the bridge (and under Route 2), proceeding onto the property of the BIG Adventure Center.

From there the extended pathway follows the riverbank to the end of the BIG Adventure property, where it turns out to the North Road.

With the three current trail elements now in place, it is possible for walkers, bicyclists, snowmobilers and others to travel between Davis Park and the North Road without having to cross the narrow and busy Route 2/26 highway bridge, and without having to navigate the sometimes daunting intersection that connects the North Road with the two state highways.

To construct the pathway ex-

Special Town Meeting in Newry focuses on finances

By ALISON ALOISIO

Newry will hold a special Town Meeting Tuesday to consider taking $106,942 from surplus to cover shortfalls and fund new items.

Selectmen approved the warrant at their regular meeting Monday.

Voters will act on eight articles (not counting election of a moderator) at the 7 p.m. meeting, to be held at the Town Office.

Article 2 proposes revisions to the town's Shoreland Zoning Ordinance.

Article 3 proposes appropriating $46,078 from the Overlay Account and taking $30,000 from Surplus to cover a tax shortfall that resulted from an assessing error.

Explanation: Discounts on lots in The Peaks and Sunday River golf course subdivisions should have been credited to those properties, but were not, town officials said.

Article 4 proposes taking $6,765 from Surplus to apply to the Grange Hall Improvement Account for new lighting needed for safety reasons.

Article 5 proposes to take $6,687 from Surplus for the Fire Department Account, to cover costs for repairs to the Sunday River Fire Station.

Article 6 proposes $1,489

W'stock board seeks input on plowing Concord Pond Road

By ALISON ALOISIO

A public hearing has been scheduled for Dec. 18 on a proposal from Woodstock selectmen to begin plowing the Concord Pond Road.

Pond residents submitted a petition this fall requesting a four-mile section of the road be plowed. It has been informally plowed by various residents in the past, Town Manager Vern Maxfield said.

Residents want winter access to their camps for shoveling and security reasons, he said.

The idea has been discussed off and on for years, said Maxfield, and "it's a project whose time has come."

Selectmen have the authority to make the decision on plowing, but must hold a hearing.

Several pond residents attended Tuesday's selectmen's meeting to discuss the request.

Maxfield said he had not heard of anyone who was opposed to the idea. But he was at first hesitant to try to arrange a plowing contract for this season, because the first snowstorm could come any day.

"My emotions say let's do it, because it's the right thing to do," he said. "But common

Middle School takes a hard look at bullying

By ALISON ALOISIO

"I know many students who get picked on because they smell, wear the same clothes each day, or are different in some other way," writes a Telstar Middle School pupil. "I don't think it is fair to those kids, but sometimes I even catch myself saying mean things to kids like this. I feel bad after, because I know it isn't right."

Bullying. It's an experience that most adults remember from childhood, and a problem that TMS pupils, staff and parents are confronting head on.

'The Revealers'

Over the past several weeks,

'I didn't realize there were that many kids that got bullied. I thought it was just me.'

TMS PUPIL

sixth-, seventh- and eighth-graders have taken part in a "Community Read" project that tackles bullying.

Every pupil, and some parents, first read "The Revealers," a novel describing how several middle school pupils suffered under, and then dealt with, other pupils who bullied them.

The pupils talked about the characters in their classes, and shared their feelings and experiences in journals and even on a school-wide, anonymous Internet blog.

Last week, the book's author, Vermont resident Doug Wilhelm, visited Telstar to provide his perspective on bullying and listen to the pupils and parents.

"It was very obvious in the beginning when we started to read this novel that many students were not aware how much their behavior may impact another student," said TMS teacher M.J. Learned.

Wilhelm's book has been used to prompt discussion in schools in many states (see

RR crossing stalls vote on site plan for Round Pond lakefront rental

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Uncertainty over the status of the Marshall Lane railroad crossing has led the Greenwood Planning Board to postpone a vote on a site plan application by the owner of Round Pond Station.

The owner, Jonathan Wells, has applied for after-the-fact approval to operate the lakefront facility -- formerly a one-bedroom, one-family camp -- as a commercial vacation rental, accommodating up to 30 people.

The Planning Board has already issued three change-of-use permits for buildings on the 1.5 acre property, and board members appeared on the verge of issuing an overall site plan approval.

However, at a public hearing on the application last week a representative of the St. Lawrence and Atlantic Railroad said the legal status of the crossing (which accesses Wells' property and several others) was unclear.

Allen Bartlett said that until the railroad had a formal agreement in place with the Marshall Road Association, the crossing would be considered "illegal."

The Planning Board responded by referring the matter to the town attorney, Al Perry of South Paris.

In a letter dated Monday, Perry replied, saying the question of safety at the crossing was germane to the board's decision making in the matter, and would best be resolved by having a formal agreement in place regarding the crossing.

Perry wrote: "whether the crossing is 'illegal' or whether the paperwork has been lost or whether the use of the

FORMER PUBLISHER REMEMBERS JOHN K. BROWN

I was lucky to have met John K. Brown on that winter day in 1984, and privileged to have purchased The Citizen from the Brown brothers, privileged to have lived in Bethel and privileged to have learned an awful lot about serving the community through publishing The Citizen till 1989, when I sold it to its current owners. My tenure with The Citizen lasted only five years; John's lasted for most of his life. He'll long be remembered by Bethel citizens for his many decades with the paper, as well as his decades serving on the school board.

Bullying

Last Thursday, when Wilhelm came to Telstar, many pupils eagerly raised their hands to ask questions of him and offer comments.

The youngsters seemed to identify with the book's characters: Russell, Catalina, Elliot and Richie, one of the bullies.

One sixth-grader offered his insight on Russell, one of Richie's victims. "I think Russell was mentally tougher than Richie," he said.

Another wondered what "happened" to Richie after the book ended, speculating that after learning some things from Russell he might have gone on to a successful life.

During an evening discussion between Wilhelm and parents, one commented that if more parents could read the novel they would gain a better perspective on what goes on in schools.

Blog insights

Many TMS pupils had offered their thoughts on bullying on the school's anonymous blog. Some examples:

"I experience bullying all the time in this school. It is not really physical violence that I face, it is more verbal. People hit me for no reason sometimes, but that does not affect me that much.

"People usually think that I am something I am not. I hear them talking about me when I am right in front of them and they know I can hear because I am looking straight at them. Most of the time I usually hear people calling another person a name like weird, ugly, back stabber, when they are not, or even real bad, bad, bad things.

"Boys usually do the physical violence and girls do the verbal violence because they know exactly what to say to that person to make them have from a good day to a certainly bad day.

"Some girls do physical violence, they can get into fights that are sometimes worse than a boy fight. On the bus I hear people talking about other people, usually it's me, my friend, or just someone I don't know at all. I still think it is wrong to talk about someone behind their back like that. Plus out of 1 to 10, I give this school a 6 for the verbal and physical and also mental violence."

And:
"A lot of things make people feel awkward all the way from bad hair to weird clothes. But EVERYONE feels awkward when you are sitting alone at the lunch table and just waiting for someone to have good spirits and sit with you.

"Most of the time if you have no real friends nobody will sit with you because they are all too busy sitting with their own little cliques and groups/gangs. If people were to sit with people they don't really like or don't even know then a lot of bullying wouldn't happen.

"It wouldn't happen much because everyone would have people standing behind them sticking up for them and that would drive bullies away."

Solutions?

After sharing their experiences, the TMS pupils offered some of their own ideas for dealing with bullying: walk away; talk to friends about it; tell an adult; start a group to help deal with it; ask the bully why he does it; and, in some cases, stand up to the bully.

Wilhelm, who is 6-foot-10, said he experienced bullying in middle school. He told the pupils he had no easy answers, but generally suggested staying with another friend so a bully would not have the opportunity to find a victim alone.

He also said that cyberbullying— using the Internet or cell phone text messaging to victimize youngsters— is another form of bullying that is becoming more of a problem.

Wilhelm noted that youngsters who are bullied are more likely to be depressed or suicidal. He used the example of the killings in 1999 at Columbine High School in Colorado, where student shooters had been the victims of bullying.

Made a difference

Learned said she believes reading the book and holding discussions has made TMS pupils more sensitive to the problem.

"The novel has allowed students to become more aware of their surroundings and the impact of bullying in a community like a school," she said.

Pupils wrote their own assessment of the book and its effect at TMS. Among the comments:

"This book taught me how to cope with bullying. It actually helped me."

"I had been having trouble fitting in and 'The Revealers' allowed me to see that it was okay to be myself."

"This book is amazing. It has made me realize that it really hurts people when you bully them. I relate to this book a lot because I got bullied and picked on. I didn't realize there were that many kids that got bullied. I thought it was just me."

Author of widely used book on bullying speaks with Middle School kids

By ALISON ALOISIO

Doug Wilhelm set out to write a story on a topic he thought young adults would find interesting. What happened after its publication—a result in part to its timing—"has amazed me," he said.

Wilhelm, a New Jersey native, lives in Vermont. He has written everything from brochures and newsletters to novels.

He got the idea for "The Revealers" from the experiences of his second-grade son, Brad, with bullies.

The boy described a fictionalized "lab" that he and his friends had at school, where they would "lure the bullies and dissect their brains," Wilhelm said.

It was Brad's way of saying they were trying to figure out what made the bullies tick.

Intrigued, Wilhelm began talking with middle school pupils across Vermont, collecting their experiences with bullying for background.

"Bullying is at its most cruel and intense in middle school," he said.

For five years, Wilhelm researched and reworked his book, shaping three main middle school characters faced with bullying. He described how they banded together to "reveal" their experiences through their school's computer network.

Vermont passes bullying law

The book was published in October of 2003. Coincidentally, on the day it came out, a 13-year-old Vermont boy committed suicide—in part as a result of bullying he had experienced both in person and online.

His parents then pushed, successfully, for REVEALING DISCUSSION—Author Doug Wilhelm, at left, talks with Telstar Middle School pupils about his book "The Revealers." the state to adopt a bullying prevention law for schools, known informally as "Ryan's Law," Wilhelm said.

It was enacted in 2004, providing for steps to enable pupils, teachers and parents to report bullying and deal with the bullies.

Since then, the state's schools have worked to both implement the law and get at the problem at its root. They began drawing on Wilhelm's book as a resource, using it to prompt discussion.

Eighty Vermont schools have used it in workshops like the one at Telstar. Schools in other states are also employing it.

'This is not OK'

To illustrate the novel's effect, Wilhelm described an incident at one middle school that had earlier used his book as a catalyst for discussion.

During lunch period in the cafeteria, a boy, tried to sit down at a table full of players from the boys' soccer team. One loudly insulted the boy, who then moved away toward a corner.

Nearby at another table was the girls' soccer team. A player invited the boy to sit with them.

Then, as a group the team rose, walked to the boys' table and informed them "this is not OK," Wilhelm said.

Asked by teachers later if discussion of "The Revealers" had prompted their actions, one girl replied, "Well, maybe, because now we know how it feels," Wilhelm said.

"And they didn't think it was anything special," he said. "It's that subtle shift that we're looking for."

Homemade Gifts for the Person who has Everything - Even the Dog!

Raspberry Hot Cocoa Mix

The combination of chocolate and raspberry make this mix heavenly!

2 cups powdered sugar
1 cup baking cocoa
1 cup non dairy powdered creamer
½ tsp salt
3.15 oz. pkgs unsweetened raspberry drink mix
5½ cups powdered milk

Combine ingredients together in a gallon-size zipping bag; shake to combine. Place in an airtight container; attach instructions. Makes 9 cups of mix. Instructions: Add 3 tablespoons mix to one cup of hot water; stir until dissolved.

Comet's White Chocolate Crunch

A favorite of children and reindeer everywhere!

10 oz. pkg mini pretzels
5 cups doughnut-shaped oat cereal
5 cups bite-size crispy corn cereal squares
2 cups peanuts
16 oz. pkg candy-coated chocolates
2 12 oz. pkgs white chocolate chips
3 tbsp oil

Combine first five ingredients in a very large bowl; set aside. Melt chocolate chips with oil in a double boiler; stir until smooth. Pour over cereal mixture; mix well. Spread mixture equally onto 3 wax paper-lined baking sheets; allow to cool. Break into bite-size pieces; store in airtight containers. Makes 5 quarts.

Memory Tray

A great way to capture cherished memories!

acrylic paint in color of choice sponge brushes
unfinished wooden serving tray, any size sandpaper or steel wool ticket stubs, photos, any other paper mementos scissors
matte decopage medium paper craft roller
glass or plexiglass to fit inside tray

Paint tray with 2 coats of acrylic paint and let dry 24 hours. Sand paint lightly so that decopage medium will adhere. Decide how you will arrange pieces, trim any excess and adhere first memento down, using decopage medium. Put a large, plain piece of paper over the glued image and smooth with roller to eliminate bubbles and ripples. Continue adding images in the same manner and, when all pieces have been pasted, apply a thin coat of decopage medium to the entire tray, covering all pasted surfaces. Let dry for about 30 minutes. Apply 2 or 3 additional coats of the medium to seal, allowing 30 minutes to dry between each coat. After the final layer is dry, set the glass or plexiglass on top to protect the tray.

Double Chip-Walnut Brownie Mix

Turn these into chocolatey mint brownies by just adding mint chocolate chips instead of vanilla chips!

1/3 cup baking cocoa
2/3 cup sugar
½ cup chocolate chips

½ cup vanilla chips
2/3 cup brown sugar, packed
1 1/3 cups all purpose flour
1 tsp salt
½ cup chopped walnuts

Layer cocoa in a one-quart, wide-mouth canning jar. Use a paper towel to remove any cocoa from sides of jar. Layer in remaining ingredients; sugar, chocolate chips, vanilla chips, brown sugar, flour, salt and walnuts. Be sure to press down each layer as tightly as possible before adding the next. Attach the following directions to the jar: Combine jar ingredients with one teaspoon vanilla extract, 2/3 cup oil, and 3 eggs. Pour into greased 9x9 baking pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes. Makes 9 servings.

Homemade Doggie Biscuits

Stir in a little beef bouillon with the water or toss in some bacon bits for extra flavor

¾ cup hot water
1/3 cup margarine
½ cup powdered milk
½ tsp salt
2 tsp sugar
1 egg, beaten
3 cups whole wheat flour

In a large mixing bowl, pour hot water over margarine. Stir in powdered milk, salt, sugar, and egg. Add flour, half cup at a time, mixing well after each addition. Knead for 4 to 5 minutes, adding more flour if necessary to make a stiff dough. Roll to half-inch thickness and cut out with bone shaped cookie cutter; hearts or cat shapes would be fun too. Place on a greased baking sheet. Bake at 325 degrees for 45 minutes. Allow to cool completely. Makes about 3 dozen, depending on the size of the cookie cutter.

Selectman Rick Young suggested putting the job out to bid, with bids to be opened just prior to the public hearing. "Let's get it out there," he said.

"While the nature of the railroad crossing is not specific to Mr. Wells (presumably all the residents on the road have the same problem), he does have the burden of demonstrating the safety of the access road and the Board is directed, in the context of requiring a traffic study, to consider the existence of any current safety problem in the area. I would suggest, therefore, that the Planning Board might require the applicant

After discussing the crossing, as well as other aspects of Round Pond Station, for more than an hour Monday, board members voted unanimously to table the application until their next meeting, on Jan. 8, in order to allow the board to hold another site walk and to give Wells time to attempt to get some form of statement from the railroad regarding its view of the safety at the crossing.

Bethel

by Virginia Keniston
Jane Young recently had a visit from her nieces, the Chapin girls.

Nancy Brown from Bolton, Conn., and Cindy Krauss from Palmouth, who took Jane out for lunch and all had a great visit. After Cindy and Nancy left Bethel they joined their sister, Mary Ann Baker, in Collierville, Tenn., for a get-together.

Amy Davis has heard from Carol Nielsen in Cocoa Beach, Fla. She is very involved in choirs and quilting.

The Congregational Church Fair was very successful with lots of people on such a pleasant day.

Woody Hughes had open house for his pottery upstairs in the barn on Chapman Street on the weekend.

Sue Farrar is now at her home recuperating, with the help of her therapist, from a broken pelvis. I'm sure she would be happy to hear from her friends.

The Spinners Group met on Wednesday with Doreen Simmons in South Paris with lunch and a Christmas Party.

Lucy Nordahl is hosting the Cross Country Quilters this Thursday (today) for lunch and Christmas party.

Upton

by Eleanor LeComte

We headed out on our road south on Tuesday last week.

We had so much "stuff" that it took two vehicles for the trip. Sue Nelson and I enjoyed the scenery, a lot of girl talk and a pretty bad book on tape, as we rolled along the highway. The weather was superb for December all the way from Upton to South Carolina and Florida. Richard rode with Larry Nelson and it must have been a smooth ride because he caught many "Z's" on the way. Our good neighbors drove us as a favor to us that can never be repaid. Upton neighbors and friends cannot be beat, they are the best! "Tansy Girl," the Nelson's yellow lab stretched out in the back seat to prove that dogs can be comfortable anywhere. As we drove south, the feeling was that we were back into fall and then to summer.

We have some regrets going away at this time of year. We will miss the Christmas Tea at the Congregational Church, the Taste of Bethel and the Greens Fair at the West Bethel Union Church. We will not miss boats, mittens and parkas. Shorts and tees are the uniform of the day.

On our trip we stopped at Hilton Head Island and visited with Don and Linda Hartwick. Linda served a delicious lunch and gave us a tour of the area.

The Christmas decorations seem strange to us here, but Christmas spirit is wonderful. Every town has a Christmas Parade. All the kids participate. Cheerleaders cheer, gym teams do their acrobatics on the road and every civic organization joins in. There is a boat parade on the Intra Coastal Waterway at night, displaying decorations and lights.

Sunday morning, I received a very welcome phone call from Collie at the Upton Village Store. I was informed that it was 18 degrees with a dusting of snow. The big snow will arrive for Christmas as is appropriate. Collie was very excited about the 2007 Calendar being sold by the State Line Snowmobile Club. It will cost $8 and that's a bargain. Scenes around Route 26 are featured. Chris has a photo of a bull moose with its face covered with snow on the cover. The proceeds will be used to finance projects related to snowmobiling. The club is a very popular one with members working to keep trails trimmed and maintained. Copies of the calendar may be obtained at the Upton Village Store and other places of business in the area.

Yesterday, my friend presented me with a one-pound lime. My neighbor in Upton would be delighted to have it for a very well-rounded vodka and tonic. The only drawback was that after we sliced it we found it to have 3/4 pound of white rind.

A happy and rapid recovery to Joy Yarnell who is having knee surgery soon.

There will be a space shot next Thursday evening. We are not too far from Cape Canaveral so it should be highly visible from the front lawn. I received a late report that Jessica Casey is also on the honor roll. "Atta Girl" Jess. The "Bird of the Week" is the snowy egret that visits once a day. Think snow! (I won't!)

Gilead

by Lin Chapman

As much as I dislike snow, I wish it would hurry up and arrive. It just is not natural to be in the first week of December and have 50-plus degree weather and no snow.

Hugh and I had a very busy weekend. Besides our usual running around, we had an overnight guest last Saturday night. Our granddaughter, Annie Chapman, decided that she wanted to spend the night with Grammy and Grampa. Her 4th birthday was Nov. 30 and she was having a party at her dad's on Sunday. We took her to her Dad and Michele's house and William, Ajay and Sidney were waiting with balloons, presents and a Winnie the Pooh cake. Everyone had a great time watching Annie open her presents.

My brother, Steve McLain, has been trying to get over this cold that a lot of people seem to have. Hugh has gone around a couple of times with it this past month.

On Monday, Dec. 4, the site walk for the proposed Peaked Hill subdivision was held. There were nine people who went to check out the area. Besides the three members of the Planning Board (Jill Bujnowski, Celia Broomhall, Len Strait), there were two members of the Gilead Historical Society (Hugh Chapman, Norm Buttrick), two from the USFS (one of them was Joe Taylor), a representative from Main Land Development and someone who was representing the owner of the property. Norm and Celia are on the Bog Road side and Joe Taylor is across Route 2 from the development and has an interest since his water supply (and the homes of other family members who live there) is on that site and could be affected.

Gilead Historical Society The newsletter will include a notice that dues are payable on the first of the year. There are still copies of the three publications and the DVD available for purchase. Contact Lin at 836-2987 if you are interested. Got any news? Call 836-2987 or e-mail chapmal@hotmail.com.

West Bethel

by Lorrie Hoeh

Last Friday night was unusual, to say the least. The combination of thunder, lightning, sleet, and 1.8 inches of rain made for an interesting storm. And then on Saturday, it spitted snowflakes off and on all day.

Said rainfall has precipitated another unfortunate situation. Just north of the Hoehstead on the west side of the Flat Road, the beavers have dammed up a culvert and flooded the woods there. All well and good until the downpour. Now the water has been running partly over the road and is undermining the pavement on that side. There are traffic cones up, but we are hoping some serious repairs will soon be made, so that the five families this side of the mess will not be cut off from civilization by further erosion!

I always feel sorry for the beavers, since, after all, it's we humans who have infringed on their territory, rather than the other way around. Ordinarily, their dams are a quite useful part of a natural flood-prevention system. It's only when our roads are "in the way" that they become flood causers, instead of preventers. Alas, they will probably have to be trapped out and either relocated or destroyed. I hope it's the former.

Saturday was a busy time in Bethel and environs. The West Bethel Union Church had its annual greens sale, which was a big success, as usual. Jane Hosterman and Barbara Mahler visited the "Taste of Bethel" at Telstar and pronounced it delicious. At the same time there was a craft fair going on at the school. The West Parish Congregational Church was holding its annual Christmas Fair and Tea in the afternoon, also well attended. Our part-time neighbor, Barbara Bennett, and I dropped in there for a "cuppa" and to peruse the wares available for sale. We also noticed that the hay wagon was available on the Common for rides around the village.

Jane H. is bidding farewell to an old friend. The huge sugar maple next to her driveway (and on town property) is gasping its last and will be removed soon by the town. She remembers that there were four maples fronting the house when she and Dick moved in all those years ago.

We loaded our car on Sunday with our daughter Martha's family, and the six of us headed to Farmington. We first had lunch with daughter Cyndy, her family, and in-laws in Chesterville. Then we all zipped over to Alumni Memorial Theater at UMaine Farmington to see our granddaughter Louisa in a Sandy River Players production of "The Best Christmas Pageant Ever." Louisa, who incidentally was named "Junior Miss Farmington Fair" this year, had the part of one of the children, which involved narrating the play, as well as acting in it. It was very enjoyable, both amusing and touching, and a nice start to the Christmas season.

As we drove home over U.S. Route 2 and reached Dixfield, we found ourselves sitting in a long line of cars at the traffic light there. It turns out that there was a huge parade which had started at 4 p.m. and was heading to Rumford. We sat in Dixfield for at least a half hour, then crept ver-r-r slowly westward for another half hour. Finally, someone gave us and others what turned out to be faulty directions for a detour to get around the parade.

After a couple of false starts, we eventually received correct information and arrived in Rumford by the back way, having circumvented the parade route. Monday's Sun Journal noted that the parade lasted from 4 to 6:30. Now that seems like an unconscionable amount of time to tie up a federal highway, which is the main east-west road in the state.

The Bethel spinning group, B.A.A.A., celebrated the season on Wednesday, Dec. 6, with its annual Christmas party at Stoneheart Farm, Doreen Simmons's home, over in Paris. We always have pot-luck and a Yankee Swap, not to mention a lot of laughs and good fellowship. Spinning and good cooking seem to go hand in hand, so we always eat very well, too.

I'm back to wreath-making and sending this Monday morning. Hope to hear from you about your holiday plans and doings. Call or write: 836-3011; dhoeh@megalink.net.

The Way I See It

by Sharon Bouchard

Sharon Bouchard's column is published by special arrangement with the Advertising Department

I am happy to say that I am almost done with my Christmas shopping.

I don't say that to boast or to make the last-minute shoppers feel badly. It's just the way it is. Shopping early is not something I do because I am an organized person. It's not done so I can take advantage of the best selections or sales. It is done strictly for budgetary reasons.

My job is commissioned sales and I get paid once a month. Therefore, I receive only 12 paychecks per year. Most people receive 52 paychecks a year and those who are paid bi-weekly receive 26, but I can enjoy only 12.

So, it is not because I have taken lessons from Martha Stewart that has taught me to be an early shopper. It is a case of necessity.

But, before any of you envy my nearly completed shopping situation, let me point out the down sides. It is not always that beneficial for a disorganized individual to start their Christmas shopping in April.

First of all, you run out of hiding places and second of all, you forget where in heck all your hiding places are.

This past weekend I decided that it might be a good idea to start wrapping things so I would not be faced with an all night wrapping frenzy a few days before Christmas like I usually am. This is when I discovered that I couldn't find where I put a good many of the presents I bought months ago.

I also discovered that some of the gifts that I bought a long time ago I had forgotten all about. This would be a bonus if it wasn't for the fact that I apparently liked the items so much that I bought the same things again months later. I would exchange some of these things if only I could remember where in heck I bought them or where I might have stashed the sales slips.

...the people I envy are the ones who have the talent to make Christmas gifts.

Here's another bugaboo about shopping early. A large percentage of presents that I bought during the summer are now on sale. I am driving myself absolutely crazy looking through all the sale flyers that are in the paper just about every day.

I know this happens every year and if I were a really smart person, which obviously I'm not, I would set aside money each month just for the Christmas season sales. But, for me, money on hand, whether in the bank or under my mattress, is money spent. I am not real good about hanging onto money.

Some of you may envy the fact that I will not have to spend much time in overcrowded stores this month, but the people I envy are the ones who have the talent to make Christmas gifts. I have so much respect for the knitters and sewers and quilters of the world who make beautiful sweaters and quilts every year.

I have no skills for such lovely crafts. I can't sew a straight line no matter how hard I try. I can knit and purl from here to Boston, but I can't turn corners. I knitted a pair of two needle mittens when I was in high school; one mitten came out pretty good, but the other looked like it would fit the Jolly Green Giant if he had happened to have a deformed hand.

When I was pregnant with my son I attempted a baby sweater. Eight years later when my daughter was born I completed it, but my husband wouldn't let me put it on her because it was a bit misshapen. Okay, it was a lot misshapen.

So, in view of the fact that I can't make any presents and I can't save money throughout the year, I'm pretty much stuck with buying a few gifts a month. My resolution for 2007 is to keep a list of what I bought and where I put it so I won't have the problems I have right now. I think that's a good idea and the way I see it, it's a heck of a lot easier than trying to knit a sweater.

OBITUARY

Buffy Lamb, beloved Himalayan cat of Joyce Lamb was lovingly put to sleep on Tuesday, Nov. 28, 2006. He was weak and having trouble walking around and eating very little. This yellow coon cat was a great companion for 16 years and had always had what he wanted to eat and came in and out as often as he could get me to open the door. He was a stray and came to my back door and asked to come in. After a month I found where he came from and was told they did not want him. He had already chosen to live with me. For many summers I worked at Camp Susan Curtis and took Buffy with me. He made himself at home there and enjoyed the children and liked to catch the frogs at the edge of Trout Lake.

Buffy never spent a night outside after he came to live with me. For an age we had to guess. The vet said he was probably five to eight years old when he came to me and then lived with me for sixteen years so he was in his early twenties. He is greatly missed for he was a big part of my life.

Hanover

Due at the end of December are dog licenses. When you go to the Town Office to get the dog's license be sure to take an up-to-date rabies certificate and the spay/neuter certificate. The fee for "fixed" dogs is $6 and for dogs that can reproduce the cost is $10. Every dog that you have needs to be licensed and a late fee will be applied after Jan. 31, 2007. Part of the fee from dog licenses goes toward animal abuse protection.

Skip and Jen Mendenhall have moved from their Howard Pond Road home and left Hanover. Their home has been rented.

Melburn (Chink) (Hutch) Hutchins will be 80 years old on Dec. 16. A gathering in his honor is planned at the Maine Veterans' Home at 477 High Street, South Paris, ME 04281 on that day from 2 to 4 p.m. Friends and acquaintances are urged to stop by and say, "Hi." If unable to attend, sending a card is a very good idea. Gifts are not solicited or expected. Melburn and his wife Rose are Hanover residents living for many years at the intersection of Main Street and Top Hat Road. He has been at the Maine Veterans' home for several years and Rose stays with her daughter, Gail Worcester and her husband, Bill. Chink worked many years in the Rumford paper mill until he retired.

Sympathy is extended to Carroll (Cack) Bean and his family upon the loss of Beatrice. They were long-time residents of Hanover having raised their family on Top Hat Road.

The Hanover Select Board met for the monthly meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 28. Citizen requests to implement a noise ordinance and a barking dog ordinance were discussed and tabled for further study. The board decided to advertise to find individuals who might be interested in serving on the Appeals Board and as alternate on the Planning Board. Interested persons should call the Hanover Town Office at 364-8200.

We have not heard of many hunters who were successful hunting deer but it is reported that muzzleloader licenses were popular at the Town Office.

Christmas is coming, as evidenced by the brilliant lights and decorations appearing throughout the area.

Sunday night's WVSC Christmas supper and meeting at the Grange was well attended with 20 members and guests. The potluck supper was diversified and most enjoyable. Before the club meeting was held, Jordan Berry, playing Santa Claus, passed the exchange of gifts around. It was an enjoyable evening.

On Sunday, Karlene Bachelder and Gilberte Seeley enjoyed lunch at the Cinnamon Stick Café in Locke Mills.

I do wish all the readers a wonderful and loving Holiday Season.

Lately I have been having a run of mice in part of the house and have been using a Have-a-Hart trap to catch and later release them. I'm beginning to think of a more drastic way to get rid of them. Lately this quote struck my fancy. "Have you ever noticed that mice don't have shoulders." — From George Carlin.

If anyone would like to rent the Grange for a holiday event, call the Town Office at 824-3123 for scheduling.

Mason

by Richard Grover

Things were pretty quiet in Mason last week, except for the lousy weather. Friday's storm brought us two inches of rain with just a touch of snow mixed in.

We went to the movie "Happy Feet" Friday evening. If you haven't seen it, you haven't missed anything. We were disappointed and bored throughout, that a penguin who could tap-dance up a storm could save the penguin world just through his dancing.

We do have a bit of real wild-life drama, though. Beavers are building a dam on Pleasant River just below the bridge near John Applin's. There are several downed trees lying across the river, and that may make the beavers' job easier. They have also plugged a culvert under the Flat Road, just south of the Albany Town line. A small brook comes under the road there, and there is a small pond right up to the road on the west side. Last Friday's rain brought enough water to wash out much of the west shoulder, right to the edge of the pavement. On Sunday we saw a Game Warden's pickup beside the road by Applins, and I don't know if they have checked out the plugged culvert yet.

On Monday I went to the Gundrilling shop in West Bethel to machine a part for my skidding winch. There I always get invited to coffee, or to learn a new story or two.

FROM UGLY DUCKLING TO GORGEOUS GOOSE?—The mute swan that has been spending the past month on area ponds has apparently decided he, or she, is a goose. Alan Hamilton took this photo on a Greenwood pond this week as the single swan made itself at home with a flock of Canada geese. Unlike the ducks in the story of "The Ugly Duckling," the geese seem to be accepting the swan, perhaps persuaded by its size.

This time David Hanscom (Big David) beaoned me over to his machine, stating that he had something for me that I had left when I retired from the shop, about five years ago. Curious, I went over, and he handed me a very tarnished quarter! He said, "I cleaned out the old wooden work cart you used to have here, and I found this quarter. I saved it to give to you because I knew you must have missed it." I never know what is going to be said or done to me when I go in there, but that really surprised me.

I'm trying something new for the "Mason" article this week, and will continue if the info comes in. Serena Williams and her son, Coulton, noticed that we have at least 12 children in Mason now and would like to add a "Kids Corner" to Mason news. Here is the first installment, and it is provided by Coulton.

Mason Kids Corner

By Coulton Williams

In case you have not noticed the kid population in Mason is growing. By my count there are at least 17 of us. I thought it would be cool to write about the stuff kids do. Skye, Orion, Autumn, and Gunner of the Fournier family are the newest arrivals in Mason. They live on King's Highway. I met them for the first time this past Halloween. They had really creative costumes. Welcome to town!

If any other kids have news they would like to share, please contact me at 836-6008 or e-mail me at serenanj@gw.net by Thursday. I will gladly report your information in the next edition of Mason kids.

On Sunday, Dec. 3, Roger and Dottie Mills were guests of honor at the Balsams, to celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary (Wow!). The occasion was attended by 60 family members, including all eleven of their children and their spouses, and many grandchildren and great-grandchildren. A lovely meal was enjoyed, followed by a carrot cake made by the Balsams bakery. A fun trivia game on Rog and Dot was made up by Brian, which we all enjoyed playing.

Have a nice weekend everyone; see you at the malls.

Alder River Grange will have a regular meeting on Dec. 8, with a 6 p.m. potluck supper at Lynn Mason-Courtney's home in Sudbury Village Apt. 1. The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. This is our Christmas meeting, so please bring a food item for the Food Pantry. Our time will change after this meeting to 6 p.m. and 7 p.m.

I have noticed the gas prices are on a fast creep back up. I wonder why? I sometimes wonder if the elections the first part of November may have had something to do with the drop. My opinion only.

Mary Bean is doing OK now. She does appreciate all the calls and cards she has received.

John and Eva Coolidge had a house full for a big Thanksgiving dinner: daughter Tina and friend Brian, Betty Ann Svach and family from Massachusetts, Jason Coolidge and Rebekah Howe with daughter Kimball, Karen and David Berry of Andover, and Earl and Mona Coolidge.

Brenda Dyke's daughter, Doreen, is now living at the Corner.

Peter Haines and Nancy Mercer had Thanksgiving dinner with George Haines and daughter, Lisa. James Haines of Gray was also there.

Peter Haines had another turkey dinner later in the day with Jim Howe of Hanover.

Rudi and Barbara Honkala had Thanksgiving with Stanley Howe. Barbara and other kantele players in the area are practicing for New Year's Eve in Bethel. They will be giving a kantele concert at the Church of the Nazarene at 7 p.m. on Dec. 31.

Diane Howe had a house full for Thanksgiving. There were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Seames, Sr. of Greenwood; Mr. and Mrs. Dustin Howe of Norway, Andrea and Savannah; Rebekah Howe and Jason Coolidge with daughter Kimball; Robert Hayes and Alyssa Howe with Skylar and Dylan of Rumford; Mike Graham and Jessica; Macy Blaisdell; P.J. Seames and Sarah of West Paris; and Mike Blaisdell.

Andre and Flossie Bernier left on Nov. 19 for South Carolina to visit with Sheila Bernier and Alexandra. Bob and Laurie Brown of Hanover went with them. They talked on the phone twice with Ryan while there. All returned home on Nov. 29.

I guess winter is coming in to stay for an extended playbill. I could really do without. I hope everyone had a good turkey day last month. Have a nice week. God Bless the Troops.

The Historical Society Museum offers everything you could imagine on the town of Woodstock. It clearly reflects the life of the community. The society is always glad to add anything else on the town that you care to donate. You determine what they have to offer in that regard.

The museum has autographed photos of famous singers and musicians connected with the Summer Music Camp years ago. C. Mortimer Wiske and his wife ran it. He was a famous conductor in New York and New Jersey. They also have a number of handsome musical instruments in their collections.

day season. Think snow!

Wednesday, Dec. 13, all are invited to the December Networking Breakfast to be held from 7:30 to 9 a.m. at the Bethel Inn Resort. Our guest speaker will be Norm Clanton. He will present the Region 9 proposal and be willing to answer any questions we have of him. Dr. David Murphy, Superintendent of SAD44 schools, also plans to be present to speak to how this proposal will affect the school's budget. An RSVP to the chamber office, 824-2282, by Tuesday, Dec. 12, is essential.

Later that day, all chamber members and Mt. Explorer sponsors are invited to attend the Mt. Explorer Kick-Off party, which begins at 4:30 p.m. at the Bethel Inn Resort. The party will proceed to the Suds Pub, then Sunday River Brewing Co., the Matterhorn Ski Bar and finishing up at the Shipyard Brewhaus at White Cap Base Lodge. The Mt. Explorer will provide a ride back to Bethel village. In addition, the Matterhorn Ski Bar invites everyone to a two-hour Business After Hours reception at their place from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m., just in case you do not want to attend the Mt. Explorer party or you want to stay at the Matterhorn for longer. This is a chance to celebrate an anticipated great winter season to come!

Many thanks to all those who participated in the Taste of Bethel and Theme Wreath Auction and the volunteers who were integral to its success. The food at the Taste of Bethel was exemplary this year. Many thanks to: S.S. Milton, Sud's Pub, 22 Broad Street at the Gideon Hastings House, Rooster's Roadhouse, Jolly Drayman, Gringo Harry's, Liam's, Funky Red Barn, Sunday River Brewing Co., New York Pizza, Shipyard Brewhaus, The Victoria, The Bethel Inn Resort, B-B-Q Bob's, The Good Food Store and Bethel's Best. All attending the event mentioned that they thought this one was the best yet.

Thanks are extended to all those who donated Theme Wreaths: Austin's Holiday House, Bethel Citizen, Bethel Historical Society, Bethel Inn Resort, Carol Savage Photography, Designs, Ellie's and Andy's Workout Express (and White's Wreaths), Casablanca Cinema, Funky Red Barn, Haagaard's Den, Healing Touch Therapeutic Massage, Key Bank, Matterhorn, Norway Savings Bank, RE/MAX In The Mountains, Mahosue Realty, Park Street Press, Pat's Pizza, Maine Line Products, Pooh Corner Farm, Spirited, and Raft Maine. A special thanks to Carol Duplessis of Pooh Corner Farm for helping hang the wreaths.

Volunteers that made the event possible are: David Frieday, Dan and Doug Zinchuk, Will Craffey, Colleen Files, Marcia Foster-Austin, Sharon Haendel, Bob McCartney, Laurence Austin, Steve Wight, Lynn Saxton, Joyce Roma, Ellen Crocker, Susan Herlihy, Ellie Andrews, Al Cressy. A hearty thanks to Gould Academy for the use of the tables and to Telstar High School for being the host to the event.

Many thanks to Oxford Networks who provided the free wagon rides once again this week and to The Bethel Citizen, who is providing them this coming Saturday, Dec. 9.

From Bethel Lions Club

The Bethel Lions Club thanks Mel Alexander for his informative presentation on Maine Handicapped Skiing, given at the 2nd Zone 8 meeting, hosted by the Bethel Lions.

Alexander started out at Maine Handicapped Skiing as a participant and he continued in the program as a volunteer. Mel is now training to teach people with physical disabilities, to enjoy the outdoors.

MHS's mission is to provide year-round adaptive education and training to children and adults with physical disabilities in order to develop skills and provide enjoyment through active recreation. He explained about raising monies to replace an older Ski-Doo Snowmobile to use in this program. Mel has managed to raise more than half of the needed monies. If anyone would like to donate to this project, you can e-mail sftroop@megalink.net, or call 824-2107 for the donation form required to have the money sent for the exclusive use for the purchase of the snowmobile.

Mike Michaud will be represented as well.

Oxford County Democratic Chairperson Cathy Newell, Vice-Chair Roy Gedat and Treasurer Mike Broderick will be recognizing the exceptional effort by the candidates for county office and legislature, and by the volunteers throughout the county that supported the state, county and legislative campaigns.

There is much to celebrate in the tremendous victories of Sheriff-elect Wayne Gallant, the pick up of the House seats by Tim Carter, Terry Hayes and Larry Sirois, and the reelection of Sen. Bruce Bryant, Rep. John Patrick, Register of Deeds Jane Rich and County Treasurer Mary Ann Prue. The strong showings by our remaining candidates continue the effort to build the Democratic Party in our county.

From

Western Mountains Senior College

Western Mountains Senior Players, under the direction of Lynn Arizzi, returns with another fun-filled fall performance to be held on Sunday, Dec. 10 at 2:30 p.m. at Gould Academy's McLaughlin Auditorium in the Science Building.

The seven comedy and dramatic one-act plays follow:

"Ladies at Lunch" is a comedy about six ladies who terrorize a waiter and manager of a local restaurant played by Jodi Carter, Leigh Dickinson, Sharon Lyon, Karen Paul, Lynn Mason and Rosabelle Tift. Joe Arizzi is the waiter and Read Dickinson, manager.

"I Wanna Be a Cowboy" features Leigh Dickinson as a sweet, shy gal from Arkansas and Read Dickinson as a big, burly guy on a bus trip to Texas.

"Lemonade Stand" features Lynn Mason and Joe Arizzi in a discussion about a lemonade stand in a poor part of town.

"Sorry, Wrong Number" features Lorrie Hoeh as an invalid who overhears the planning of a murder and Mary Colbath as the disinterested police lieutenant. The entire cast has supporting roles.

"The Employment Agent" has Sharon Lyon as the employment agent interviewing a mime played by Karen Paul.

"Variations on the Death of Trotsky" features Joe Arizzi, Rosabelle Tift and Jodi Carter in a comedy of seven variations on the way Trotsky could have died.

"Bye, Bye Brevoort" is a British comedy featuring three older ladies, Mary Colbath, Lorrie Hoeh and Rosabelle Tift, having tea with their gentleman friend, Joe Arizzi, totally unaware that the Hotel Brevoort is being torn down. Sharon Lyon plays the perky maid. Other characters include Karen Paul, Read Dickinson, Jodi Carter, Leigh Dickinson and the carrier pigeon played by Bronson, Lynn Mason's companion/guide dog.

The audience will note that players carry their scripts with them, as no memorization of lines is required. Lynn Arizzi says this makes the players different from regular theater groups. However, as in all theater companies, the players follow stage directions, use props and develop the characters they are portraying.

Senior players are sponsored as a course by Western Mountains Senior College and open to all members as one of a variety of courses and programs offered for adults ages 50 and over. For more information, call Lynn at 824-0080.

Workshop On Bellydance Janet Willie, LMT, will present a workshop on "The Art of Bellydance" on Saturday, Dec. 9, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the Gehring House.

Janet tells us bellydance engages the entire body from head to toe making it a fun and healthy choice for exercise. She said the flowing movement of bellydance massages the body's joints while gently stretching the muscles, ligaments and tendons. The movement form helps a person be more graceful and decreases strain on the body. "It's also a nice cardiovascular and toning exercise and a delightful experience," Janet adds.

Janet has been teaching belly dance since 1998 with classes in Bethel and Rumford. She has studied the dance form with a variety of teachers from around the country. A practicing massage therapist for the past 15 years, her teaching is supported by a strong education in movement theory and anatomy and physiology.

This workshop is part of the To Your Health fall series sponsored by Western Mountains Senior College and SAD44 Community Education in collaboration with the Bethel Family Health Center. Anyone interested in learning more about bellydance is invited to attend this free workshop. For more information, call 824-2053 or 824-8610.

From

Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center

The Bethel Historical Society's Dr. Moses Mason House Museum will be decorated as it might have been in the early 19th century for the holiday season with boughs, berries and fruit. On Thursday, Dec. 7, beginning shortly after 6 p.m. there will be hot mulled cider served from the hearth of the winter kitchen and in the dining room holiday treats will be offered to all visitors. In the parlor there will be harp music reflecting the season. This event will take visitors back to an earlier era of Christmas celebration. Everyone is welcome.

At 7:30 p.m. this event will be followed by a special gathering in the meeting room of

Thefts from parked cars in Newry

NEWRY—A total of roughly $8,000 worth of items were stolen from vehicles in parking lots at Sunday River Ski Resort and the Great Grizzly restaurant Saturday evening, according to Deputy Mike Halacy of the Oxford County Sheriff's Department. Halacy declined to specify what the items were, but said that two pocketbooks were later recovered alongside the road. Items were taken from between six and eight vehicles, all of which were unlocked, he said. The case is still under investigation.

New boys' basketball program

BETHEL—Signups/first session at Telstar gym for fifth- and sixth-grade boys' recreational basketball will take place Saturday, Dec. 9, at 10 a.m. The program is being established in part because of a very large turnout for Telstar Middle School teams, and is expected to run at least through January, on Saturdays. For more information call Mark Thurlow at 674-3698.

Nielsen on suicide watch

PORTLAND—The suspect in the Labor Day weekend killing spree near the Sunday River ski resort was placed on a suicide watch Tuesday after being treated for self-inflicted wounds, officials said. Cumberland County Sheriff Mark Dion said 30 sutures were required to close the wounds on Christian Nielsen's scalp. Nielsen used a disposable razor Tuesday morning to make the cuts that resembled the letter "X," Dion said. The cook is charged with killing three women and dismembering their bodies at the Black Bear Bed & Breakfast in Newry. He's also charged with killing an Arkansas man and dumping his body in the woods in Upton. The state attorney general's office and state police department are reviewing the facts that led to the latest jail incident. The sheriff's department will lead a separate investigation for any potential violations of internal policies and procedures. Nielsen, held on four murder counts, was moved to the Cumberland County Jail after he allegedly attacked an inmate at the Oxford County Jail days after his arrest. His trial is tentatively set to start next October.

Legion baseball returns to Rumford

RUMFORD—Rumford is expected to field an American Legion baseball team beginning in the 2007 season. There has not been a legion team in Rumford since 1999. The team, to be known as Northern Oxford County, is expected to draw players from Mountain Valley, Telstar and Dirigo high schools.

CHANGES ARE MADE IN DETERMINATIONS OF BASE FLOOD ELEVATIONS FOR THE TOWN OF BETHEL, OXFORD COUNTY, MAINE, UNDER THE NATIONAL FLOOD INSURANCE PROGRAM

On June 19, 1997, the Department of Homeland Security's Federal Emergency Management Agency identified Special Flood Hazard Areas (SFHAs) in the Town of Bethel, Oxford County, Maine, through issuance of a Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM). The Mitigation Division has determined that modification of the elevations of the flood having a 1-percent chance of being equaled or exceeded in any given year (base flood) for certain locations in this community is appropriate. The modified Base Flood Elevations (BFEs) revise the FIRM for the community.

The changes are being made pursuant to Section 206 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (Public Law 93-234) and are in accordance with the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968, as amended (Title XIII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968, Public Law 90-448), 42 U.S.C. 4001-4128, and 44 CFR Part 65.

A hydraulic analysis was performed to incorporate new topographic data and has resulted in a revised delineation of the regulatory floodway, increases and decreases in SFHA width, and increased and decreased BFEs for Twitchell Brook. The table below indicates existing and modified BFEs for selected locations along the affected lengths of the flooding sources cited above.

Location	Existing BFE (feet)*	Modified BFE (feet)*
Approximately 2,200 feet upstream of its confluence with Androscoggin River	647	648
Approximately 5,670 feet upstream of its confluence with Androscoggin River	656	654

*National Geodetic Vertical Datum, rounded to nearest whole foot

Under the above-mentioned Acts of 1968 and 1973, the Mitigation Division must develop criteria for floodplain management. To participate in the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP), the community must use the modified BFEs to administer the floodplain management measures of the NFIP. These modified BFEs will also be used to calculate the appropriate flood insurance premium rates for new buildings and their contents and for the second layer of insurance on existing buildings and contents.

Upon the second publication of notice of these changes in this newspaper, any person has 90 days in which he or she can request, through the Chief Executive Officer of the community, that the Mitigation Division reconsider the determination. Any request for reconsideration must be based on knowledge of changed conditions or new scientific or technical data. All interested parties are on notice that until the 90-day period elapses, the Mitigation Division's determination to modify the BFEs may itself be changed.

Any person having knowledge or wishing to comment on these changes should immediately notify:

REAL ESTATE AND YOU

KITCHEN APPEAL

There's no doubt about it - the kitchen is one of the most important rooms in the whole house for many prospective buyers. Smart sellers will take a close look at how they can make their kitchen a real asset when it is time to sell.

Your kitchen doesn't need to be state-of-the-art to be attractive. The first step toward enhancing your kitchen's appeal is a thorough cleaning. This includes the walls, cabinets (inside and out), floors, and appliances. Keep the countertops as clear as possible of small appliances and gadgets. Consider low-cost improvements, which can make a big difference, such as a coat of paint, fresh wallpaper, or new floor covering. Be sure to keep the kitchen sparkling when the house is being shown. This means no dirty dishes in the sink, or moldy cucumbers in the refrigerator. This extra effort will pay great dividends!

For professional advice on all aspects of buying or selling real estate, contact Cindy Hiebert at Mahoosuc Realty, 207-824-2771

AUDREY ANNE DUNHAM

Audrey Anne Lafoy Dunham, 73, passed away Monday, Nov. 20, 2006 at home, after a long illness.

She was born Nov. 22, 1932, in Albany, the loving daughter of Clarence and Arline Lafoy, nee Littlehale.

She is survived by three children, Stephen and Karen of South Paris and Thomas (Patricia) of Hinsdale, Ill.

A memorial service at the Woodstock Seventh-day Adventist Church celebrating her life will be held at a later time and date to be announced.

LEMPI YATES HEATH

Lempi Yates Heath, 85, of South Paris left this world in the arms of her Savior on Nov. 29, 2006 at Stephens Memorial Hospital, Norway. Lempi was born in Harrison on April 6, 1921, the first child of John and Hilda Kangas Leino. At the age of 17 she married Glenn Yates and moved to Greenwood where she raised her three children. Glenn passed away in 1964. In September of 1968 she married Cecil Heath. They continued to live at the farm in Greenwood until 2001 when they moved to Buck Hill Apartments on High Street. Cecil passed away shortly after they moved but Lempi continued to live there. She enjoyed company, doing her sewing projects and in the past year wrote a book entitled, "Memories of Lower Greenwood."

Family and friends were proud of her accomplishments. She enjoyed talking about it and adding to it, as she remembered other events. People also enjoyed the beautiful pillows she made for family and friends.

She is survived by brothers, Bruno and wife Ruth, Henry and wife Miriam, Harold and wife Helen and Walter; sisters, Lila Butterfield and husband Leslie, Eila Makey and husband John, and Martha Leino; son-in-law, David Garthe and wife Violet; daughter-in-law, Louise Yates; grandchildren, Douglas Garthe and wife Ramona, Daniel Garthe and wife Stacy Milazzo, Marcia Yates Huston and husband Shawn, Jeffrey Yates and wife Joanne; stepdaughter-in-law, Linda Davis and husband Bill; several great-grandchildren and step great-grandchildren; and nieces and nephews. Funeral services were held on Saturday, Dec. 2 at Weston-Chandler Funeral Home, 45 Main Street, South Paris with interment following at Norway Pine Grove Cemetery in South Paris. Remembrance donations can be made to the Maine Veterans' Home, Activity Fund, 477 High Street, South Paris, ME 04281 or the American Cancer Society, 1 Main Street, Suite 300, Topsham, ME 04086. Card of Thanks

I wish I could personally thank all of you for the lovely cards, and the funny ones too, that made me laugh right out loud, but that's not possible at this time. Your visits were a pleasant surprise also!

I'm enjoying my beautiful plants and flowers. I'm home now so I can take care of them myself. I'm trying hard to obey the doctor's orders and use my walker all the time.

It helps to know I have your good wishes. See you at the Post Office someday soon, I hope.

Lovingly,
Miss Sue
